Union Pacific Railroad is in the process of making track, trestle and crossing repairs from Hillsboro to points north of Burleson. Several crossings and track repairs will be made within the city limits of Burleson between now and Dec. 16.

There will not be a full time closure of a crossing at anytime; however, there will be periodic closures that could happen anytime throughout the day. The closures will be temporary and traffic will be allowed to proceed through the crossing as soon as possible. There will be some crossing closures that will take up to a day to complete. Detours will be set up to provide drivers with alternative routes. Union Pacific will be providing flagmen to assist with any safety issues.

The most active crossing where periodic closures will take place is the Ellison Street crossing in Old Town Burleson.
