Burleson Public Library offers free online learning courses

Lynda.com is a premier online learning resource offering more than 4,000 courses covering technical skills, creative techniques, business strategies, and more—now available FREE with your library card.

The Burleson Public Library has a new resource for Online Learning. Lynda.com is a premier online learning resource offering more than 4,000 courses covering technical skills, creative techniques, business strategies, and more—now available FREE with your library card.

Lynda for Libraries allows you to watch videos in small, easy-to-manage chunks, and to return to the lessons at your convenience.

Course offerings include:

- Art, graphic design, and music classes, teaching everything from 3D animation to engineering sound to the Adobe Creative Suite (Photoshop, InDesign, and more)
- Help with computer programs, including videos on how to use Microsoft Office
- Courses that can help you in your career—everything from public speaking to marketing to dealing with workplace issues
- Computer programming, IT management (Windows, Linux, and Mac OS X), and web design
- Photography and video... just to name a few.

Lynda can be accessed online from the Burleson Library website — from home or at the Library.

“The Burleson Library staff is delighted to have a new resource to offer patrons looking to improve their skills or to acquire new skills,” Amanda Cadenhead, Community Engagement Librarian, said. “We often receive inquiries from those who want to learn how to use Microsoft Word or Excel and we are glad to have a resource for them to use at their convenience. We would like to encourage all of our patrons to log in and explore the classes.”

Burleson Library cardholders can log on to the Lynda.com site through the Library’s website at www.burlesonlibrary.com, with their Library card number.

The Burleson Public Library is located at 248 S.W. Johnson Ave. Library hours are 10 a.m. to 8 p.m., Monday through Wednesday, and 10 a.m. to 6 p.m., Thursday through Saturday. For more information, visit the library or call 817-426-9210.
